

LIFE SCIENCES TRAINERS & EDUCATORS NETWORK

LTEN provides life sciences training and education professionals with the clarity, community and career resources that they need to excel in leadership and learning.

Network after Work!

Join us for a special evening of networking and community, as we bring LTEN and its outstanding benefits to you! This event is meant to connect training leaders, educators, peers and industry partners from across the Life Sciences. Meet new associates, create vibrant partnerships, grow your professional network and see longstanding friends. Be sure to invite your colleagues!

The event is free to attend, along with complimentary appetisers, beer and wine.

LTEN is a membership-based organisation celebrating its 45th year of bringing together a "network" of industry individuals. It is meant to generate a powerful community with a collective philosophy that life sciences training professionals benefit by sharing ideas between companies and industry partners.
